BETTER THAN GOLD!

PORTSMOUTH, July 9, 1851.

Mr. J. E. Boush—Dear Sir: I feel it a duty to make known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Hampton's known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Hampton's VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For a number of years I suffered from disease, but to a greater degree for the last three years. One of the forms of my disease was dyspepsia. From this dreadful malady I suffered to such an extent that life was really a burden. The attack of it on me was different to that on any other person of whom I have heard; at times it was like the palpitation of the heart; there was a constant thumping and beating without intermission about the region of my heart, chest, and stomach; some of the attacks would last for weeks; my stomach was much distended, with constant pain, great weakness, and constipation of the bowels. I could not eat the most simple food without pain. I also suffered greatly from disease of the kidneys, with constant pain in the back, that I could walk only with great difficulty. I tried nearly all of the most celebrated patent medicines of the day, but found no relief. I had also the best medical attendance. One of my physicians frankly told me it was of no use for me to be paying him for advice, as he could do me no good. I gave up almost in despair, and thought my disease certainly incurable.

At this juncture I heard of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. I refused to give it a trial, although persuaded by my friends, until my son purchased a few bottles, and requested me to try it; after taking it a few times, it had a most happy effect on me; my confidence increased, and after taking three bottles, my dyspepsia, or disease of the stomach, was nearly if not entirely cured. I now feel myself a new man, and in better health than for years. I am certain the cure in my case was made by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture alone. Since my cure I have recommended the tincture to a number of my friends, who have also been relieved by it. Some of the cures have been as rapid and equally wonderful as mine.

I present my respects to Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray, the proprietors of this valuable medicine, and say to them its valua is above price VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For a number of years duty to recommend it to the suffering. I have no doubt many valuable lives will be prolonged by its use. I hope the afflicted will cast aside their prejudices and give it a trial. Yours most respectfully, (Signed)

The above is extracted from a letter from a gentlema sixty years of age, and of high character. He says: "have given but a faint idea of my sufferings; I feel inac equate to the task." We also have received, in the lafew days, letters from two of our most worthy and welknown citiesns, giving two remarkable cures of spins disease. But yesterday one of the oldest merchants reported that he was cured of neuralgia of the head, cyears standing, and so bad that his teeth fell out from it effects. Call and see letters. Was there ever so many cures, wonderful cures, made by any other medicine All we sak of the afflicted is that they try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, the great purifier of the blood and cure for all chronic diseases, as dyspepsia, rheumatism, scrofula, and all complaints of the stomach, bowels. Arrival of the Atlantic this Morning [Despatched to the American Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, September 1-1 p. m. The Atlantic has arrived with nearly two hundred passengers. She brings Liverpool dates to the twentieth.

Since the departure of the Asia, cotton has been very active at full prices; middling qualities advanced an eighth; sales since the Asia sailed of twenty-four thousand bales.

Flour has declined from a sixpence to a shilling. We quote Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Ohio at fifteen to twenty shillings. Wheat has declined a penny.

Corn is steady at previous rates. Provisions are quiet, prices unchanged. Lard has advanced sixpence. Coffee is in increased demand. Rates fully sustained. Tea slightly declined.

Rice is dull, with a downward tendency. Manchester trade is better.

Consols declined to ninety-six and a quarter to three-eighths. American stocks unchanged The first accounts of the Cuba insurrection were received at Madrid on the 13th, and rep esented as trifling and speedily suppressed. The political news is unimportant; French

Cotton is very firm, with an upward tendency. Consideration for the Sick, and High Reverence for the Remains of the Dead!"

At New York flour and grain are unaltered.

The Intelligencer of this morning says: "With the view of discrediting our statement, made on the authority of letters from the American Consul at Havana, that the men who were executed had been first formally tried before a military tribunal," &c. We had forgotten this statement, together with its authority.

Adjutant Stanford's letter, also in the Intelligencer of this morning, says:

"We made the best of our way to the seashore, and found some boats with which we put to sea. Spent a night upon the ocean, and next day, about twelve o'clock, were taken oners by the Habanero; were brought to Ha-vana last night, and condemned to die this morning. We are all to be shot in an hour."

" Brought to Havana last night, and condemned to die this morning. We shall all be shot in an hour!" Who can have the temerity to discredit the statement that these men had BREN FIRST FORMALLY TRIED !!

The same paper contains the following extract:

"There are still sixty-four of this commar to be accounted for. Of these forty were surprised and shot at a small farm-house. A Spanish lieutenant reports that on the 14th he came upon twenty "pirates" guarding an equal number of wounded comrades, all of whom were immediately put to death !"

But directly under its editorial head is Cuba letter, of the 16th, favorably introduced by the editors, in which we are told-"The execution of this morning is variously represented as having been quite brutal, and by others as having been conducted with due solemnity and decency. Consideration for the sick, and high reverence for the remains of the dead, are among the leading traits of Spanish character. If in this case they have acted otherwise, I am greatly mistaken. You can scarcely believe any thing written from here by this steamer, (16th,) nor will there be another opportunity until the 31st. You know the Captain General to he of a mild and beneficent character: but in the execution of these deluded followers of Lopez, it is said he acted under the most distinct existing orders from Spain, and from a conviction that the populace could only be thus satisfied."

Three more steamers-the Asia, the Hermann, and the City of Glasgow-have arrived from England: but we do not perceive that Dr. Gardiner came passenger in either of them. The last of August has come and past, and yet not Dr. Gardiner! We do hope the next steamer may bring him. "York, you're wanted."

The steamer Atlantic will be the next to ar rive, if she has not already got in. This is ber twelfth day out from Liverpool.

The India Rubber Business.

On the first page of this day's Telegraph will be found a document well worthy of perusal. It is a bill, filed in court, in New York city, by Dr. D. Francis Bacon, against William Judson, esq., demanding payment for services rendered. according to a stipulated agreement, in writing for the press articles in favor of the Goodyear India Rubber Monopoly, (with which Mr. Judson is largely connected, and of which he is the principal director,) and against any alteration or amendment by Congress of the present patent laws.

The bill details some of the vile means resorted to by moneyed men of reckless character to sway the judgments of members of Congress, and to control their action as legislators for the public weal.

It is well known that the present patent laws are miserably defective, and that very great and general complaint is made in all quarters of the existing management of the Patent Office. Far better would it be to have no patent laws at all than to have such as now exist. which afford very little or no security to the inventor. There should be a stringent law passed to severely punish any examiner in the Patent Office who might procrastinate action on an application for a patent for a valuable invention until the specifications of said invention could be stolen and sent to England, and a patent than the real, but cheated and defrauded author of the invention. We do not charge that any examiner in the Patent Office would be guilty of this kind of base conduct. But we do charge that there is no suitable law to prevent it, if an examiner could be found bad enough to make the attempt.

It is certain, also, that the present patent laws vest in the commissioner a very great and dangerous power, that of granting or refusing to grant an extension for seven years of a patent, worth, say, half a million of dollars, which ought not to be wielded by any man, however pure and upright he might be.

During the last two sessions of Congress, a great many persons, business houses and firms, petitioned and memorial ized the law-makers of the country to amend the patent laws. A convention of patent lawyers, patentees and inventors had attempted to frame . mendments which would give security to invento."s and protect the public interest. Their labors and suggestions were respectfully submitted to the Committee on Patents in the United States Senate. After due deliberation, that committee reported a bill to annul the patent laws. That bill was defeated by the extraordinary exertions of William H. Seward, John P. Hale, and Jefferson Davis. Mr. Senator Seward, it is well understood, is the retained counsel, as a patent lawyer, of the Goodyear and Judson monopoly, as well as of ome other wealthy monopolies. It is represented that his fees as a retained counsel for these monopolies amount to $15,000 per annum. We, however, do not vouch for this fact. But the reader, who peruses Doctor Bacon's bill, will now see why Senator Seward was so anxious and earnest, at the last session of Congress, that the patent laws should not be amended. His employers were at work. Just and impartial patent laws might conflict with their monopoly.

Among those who were most earnest and conspicuous in their honest endeavors to get the patent laws amended was Horace H. Day, sq., a very extensive manufacturer of, and lealer in, India rubber goods, whose store is in Courtland street, New York city. It will be seen, by Doctor Bacon's bill, how Mr. Day was singled out by Doctor Bacon's employer to be traduced and maligned. Mr. Day, with other heavy India rubber manufacturers, had published a pamphlet, which exposed to the President and to the world the gross and glaring wrong done by the Commissioner of Patents, in granting, against light and knowledge, against bury Company paid all expenses for obtaining the patent and making experiments. He swore, in his testimony, that he received $8,000 of the Roxbury Company for his invention. The company afterwards sold it out, "stalk, lock, and luke," for one dollar and twenty-five cents. They had got tired of it. The Chaffee patent was sold afterwards, or assigned to four different persons. Finally, Charles Goodyear purchased it for $25. The Goodyear and Judson monopoly bargained with Chaffee to petition for its extension for seven years from the 30th of August, 1850, the time the patent was to expire and become the property of the public. Chaffee complied; and the Commissioner, willing to act officially for the Goodyear and Judson monopoly, and against the public interest, granted the extension asked for!

Mr. Day and his associates did well to expose the transaction. For that, and for the manly independent stand he has taken in behalf of his just rights, HORACE H. DAY has been more annoyed, persecuted, traduced, and proceeded against in courts of law, than any other man we know of in this wide world of ours. But Comment is here unnecessary. We commend such a man-able, vigorous, yet young, conthe Intelligencer to the care of the "LOWER scious of being right, active, energetic, self-ORDER OF THE PRESS, in New Orleans and New made, courteous, and calculated to make warm friends wherever he moves, cannot be put down in this free and enlightened country. BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE,

AND THE BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS. granting, against light and knowledge, against law and against justice, for the benefit of the Goodyear and Judson monopoly, an extension, for seven years, of the Chaffee patent—worth, as Chaffee made oath, a quarter of a million of dollars!

The invention which Chaffee got patented in 1836, for the Eoxbury Manufacturing Company, in whose employ he then was, had been in use by Dr. J. I. Howe, of New York, as early as 1829, and by Mr. Atkinson, of Lowell, Mass., in 1832. It cost Chaffee nothing, as the Roxbury Company paid all expanses for obtaining.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW,
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW,
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW,
AND BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, and BLACKWOOD'S ENINSTERM MAGAINE.

In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three greatest parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical; "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whig, and the "Westminster Review" Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge. It was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, fire his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, fire his death, is conducted by this son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very lighest order. The "Westminster," though reprinted under that itile only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage, by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both, as heretofore issued.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition.

Mr. Robert Searz—Dear Sir: I have looked over the entire series of your valuable publications with much interest and profit; and am quite surprised at the amount of literary labor you have performed, and the research it must have cost you to obtain so many fine illustrations, while you have an active superintendence of an extensive business. I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will exert, and cannot but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which deluges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up even to the kneading troughs of our kitchens. May you live long to follow your plans.
